Peter Dubinski

In the Garden, Burning Flowers

Peter Dubinski (He/Him) (b.1999) is an artist who makes photographs among the dark woods and frozen rivers of Ontario & Quebec, seeking thresholds of the human role as a quiet observer and active participant in photographic storytelling. Subjects and interests that guide his practice include; the functions of myth, what it's like for a deer to get hit by a car, disaster & escapism, fish that swim back to where they were born to die, and the fragile line between fact & figment. He considers his work sequentially within the pages of photographic books. He is attending a Bachelor of Fine Arts at the University of Ottawa, and has received awards such as the Sherry Welden Memorial Prize, and the City of Ottawa Youth in Culture Pilot Program Grant.
